Estes Offers Liquidation Plan to Court

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes submitted in federal court today a plan for operating his properties at a profit to liquidate his numerous debts.

The plan was outlined in a statement filed with Judge R. E. Thomson in U.S. District Court.

Estes' lawyers said the plan renounces his claim to residue in excess of the debts and asked that any such excess profit be paid into a trust for the benefit of the 4-H farm youth program.

It asked only that Estes' Pecos home, personal automobile, tractor and farm tools be excepted.

Court-appointed receiver Harry Moore in his first report on the receivership showed income of $143,594.55 and expenses of $113,017.78.

Estes' attorneys explained that the statement did not show the value of Estes' grain rental contracts. They said that if it were capitalized it would wipe out any deficit.

Businesses listed in the report included: Farmers Co.; Wheeler Fertilizer Co.; Lester Stone Fertilizer; United Elevators; Fort Stockton Implement Co.; Agriculture, Inc.; Equipment Service Co.; Pecos Transit Mix; Western Flying Service; Verhalen Mercantile Co.; and Pecos Printing Co.

Estes is under federal indictment for fraud in connection with his fertilizer operations.

Judge Thomson ordered a federal grand jury to reconvene next Wednesday, presumably to hear more evidence in the Estes case.

In the hearing today Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson will seek permission to name Estes and Estes doing business as United Elevators and the Lester Stone Co. in an anti-trust suit.

Judge Thomson has signed a stay order which prohibits prosecution of any suit against Estes without authorization of his court.

The order is intended to stay prosecution until Estes' trial in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiracy and interstate transportation of forged securities.

The Pecos, Tex. financier whose multimillion dollar empire once embraced cotton grain storage and liquid fertilizer sales also faces state charges of theft.

Tricked by Club Owners, Woman Says

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anita Lopushok, a dancer known as Fatima or Fatima, told Senate investigators today she was shut down under a barrage of flung cookies and coffee when she tried to speak at a union meeting to protest the treatment she and other night club girls received.

A dark-haired woman who is 22, Mrs. Lopushok also poured out to the Senate investigating subcommittee a story of being tricked into signing away her right to her baby, and having been threatened by a night club operator with mob vengeance if she continued to fight to recover custody of the child.

The subcommittee is investigating charges that high officials of the AFL-CIO American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA), an entertainers union, have conspired with a crime syndicate which allegedly fattens on profits of prostitution, pocket picking and other rackets connected with its string of honky tonk night clubs.

Earlier in the hearings, some witnesses from the g-string crowd have told stories of girls being pressured into prostitution.

But Mrs. Lopushok testified no one ever dared to try to lure or drive her into prostitution, because "they knew better."

She said she was forced to "mix" with the customers at night clubs, to hustle the sale of drinks to customers.

In other highlights of her testimony Mrs. Lopushok told of:

1. Having her clothing stripped forcibly from her body by a couple of bartenders at a Chicago club known as the Aloha, and forced to dance "raw" for the customers.
2. Serving as a sort of "hostess" at a fraternity house at Knox College, at Galesburg, Ill.

She told of the stripping incident in flat, emotionless tones. "I was a young girl," she said, "about 19½."

Mrs. Lopushok said she studied dancing in Europe and is "one of the best" Latin-type dancers. She said she does "strictly no bumps and grinds, strictly footwork."

She gave few details of her trip to the fraternity house, but said "they sent me out there" without identifying the "they." The students, she said, raised the money to pay her, but it wasn't very profitable.

The implication seemed to be that she was there as a sort of chaperone. She said the dates of the male students had to leave at 10 p.m.

Wallace, and Earl J. Allen of the Agricultural Extension Service Staff will speak during the morning program.

Lunch and drinks may be purchased on the Station grounds from 12 to 12:30, according to Mr. Bittle.

Local Man Discusses City Manager

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—City manager government results in a more efficient operation of municipal affairs, a Hope city official said here Thursday night.

George Frazier, a member of Hope's Board of Directors addressed about 200 persons at a meeting called by a special City Council committee studying advantages and disadvantages of city manager government.

Hope was the first Arkansas city to adopt the manager form. Frazier said there were two main misconceptions about city manager government—that it was a dictatorship and that the new manager would fire everybody who worked under the old system.

He said city employees in Hope had more job security now than ever before.

Alderman O. E. Guinn, the committee chairman said the council would use the attendance figure as a barometer of interest in changing the form of government.

Petitions now are being circulated in Newport for a special election on the question.

Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made its second attempt of the day to rally this afternoon. Working from its lowest level in many months, the market pulled out of a midday decline and some key issues posted good gains.

It had opened with an advance which withered under selling pressure.

U.S. Copters Help Hunt Red Rebels

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese troops, supported by U.S. helicopters, hunted Communist guerrillas today for the second straight day in an area 40 miles north of Saigon.

Authorities said the sweep that was launched Thursday resulted in the destruction of a large food depot and the capture of five Communist vehicles. Casualties were reported light.

U.S. military sources said an American sergeant killed Wednesday in another operation near the Laotian border died of wounds suffered under Communist mortar fire.

The sergeant, Robert Gardner of Nashua, N.H., was fatally wounded in a barrage just as he was about to take off in a helicopter with three wounded Vietnamese troops, informants said. Two other U.S. Army men, a captain and another sergeant, were wounded, not seriously. Their names were not announced. Six other persons, presumably Vietnamese, were reported killed.

The South Viet Nam government said four Communist liaison agents were captured Monday in another operation about 20 miles south of Saigon.

In still another action, a guerrilla was reported killed in a night patrol clash Monday near the village of Long Thung.

Preacher, Wife Charged in Swindle

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A St. Louis Circuit Court grand jury has returned three indictments charging the Rev. Matthew Perkins and his wife Lola, with stealing more than $50 in a charity swindle.

The Perkinses, Negroes, allegedly bilked a wealthy white, Louisiana land owner out of more than $338,888.

Perkins 59, and his wife 56 were arrested here several weeks ago.

The three indictments charge the pair got a total of $91,641 from Robert Amacker of Lake Providence La. between 1959 and 1961.

Circuit Atty. Daniel P. Reardon said the couple obtained at least $338,000 from Amacker plus money from other people which changed hands between the Perkinses and others in Lake Providence Little Rock and Pine Bluff, Ark., and some other places.

Only the transactions that took place in St. Louis are involved in the indictments.

Authorities said the Perkinses solicited Amacker for funds for the United Rock of Charity Inc.

JFK Admits He Needs GOPs for Proposals

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, giving Democrats in Congress a light pat on the back, has urged Republicans to ignore party labels and vote for his major proposals.

Kennedy's prod at his news conference Thursday amounted to a concession that he needs GOP votes on some issues as well as a challenge to Republicans to adopt a nonpartisan stance on "matters of great national importance."

As a senator, Kennedy recalled, he sided with former Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower on such questions as raising the debt limit and permitting aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia as a tool of foreign policy. He encouraged Republican support on these propositions. And he put special emphasis on his farm bill, already passed by the Senate, to couple production controls with price supports for wheat and feed grains.

Kennedy also used the nationally televised conference to exhort flight engineers "to meet their public responsibilities" and abandon strike threats against Pan American, Trans World and Eastern air lines. He did not rule out the possibility of seeking authority to seize the airlines if the engineers walked out, but said he hoped they would submit their dispute to arbitration or find some other peaceful solution.

Then, in reply to questions, Kennedy suggested politics and old positions be discarded in favor of fresh thinking on business and the economy. Here, he appealed to Republicans outside of Congress to concentrate on "the real problems of our country" and wait until 1964 to argue politics. Those problems exist regardless of who occupies the White House, he said, commenting that Eisenhower held office during the 1950 and 1960 recessions.

The chief executive said he couldn't imagine anyone deriving political or personal pleasure out of the stock market plunge or economic crises. That was his response when asked about a columnist's report that the current big business attitude toward Kennedy is: "Now we have you where we want you."

Kennedy previously had remarked that most businessmen are Republicans and happier when Continued on Page Three

Boy Chained by His Father

POLICE CHIEF JACK BROWN IS SHOWN WITH MACIO Walker, Jr., 10, who walked into the Police Station wearing a chain which his father placed, and locked on his leg last night. He told officers his father tried to chain him in a smokehouse after beating him but he broke away. When his father went to work this morning he came to the Police Station with two other boys. The youth's leg was badly bruised by the chain.

OFFICERS ARRESTED THE FATHER AT WORK AND took the chain off the lad's leg. Macio Sr. was lodged in jail pending filing of charges. He told officers he chained the boy to keep him from running off. Walker is currently under a three year suspended sentence for being involved in a shooting scrape last year. Investigating Officers, Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin and Deputy Prosecutor Al Graves plan to try and have Walker's sentence revoked and to file other charges.

State Scored Gain in Population

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas scored a net gain of about 11,000 residents in 1961, an increase of .6 per cent over the 1960 census, the University of Arkansas' Bureau of Business and Economic Research estimated Friday.

The bureau's report showed an emigration still is under way, but a natural population increase—births over deaths—is more than offsetting it.

The bureau estimated 10,822 sons left the state during 1961 but that there were 20,984 more births than deaths.

Thirty counties show a population increase, led by Carroll with 5 per cent and Faulkner with 4.9 per cent.

Leading losers include Newton 6.8 per cent, Montgomery 5.1 per cent, and Columbia, Hot Spring, Little River, Marion, Polk and Scott, all with more than 4 per cent.

Twenty counties showed little change with increases or losses of less than 1 per cent.

Total population was estimated at 1,797,374, compared to the 1960 census figure of 1,786,272.

In numbers, Pulaski County was the greatest gainer with 2,354 or 3.2 per cent. Washington gained 1,104 or 3.6 per cent, Benton 894 or 3.2 per cent and Faulkner 883 or 3.2 per cent.

The largest numerical loss was in Union County, 1,717 or 1.7 per cent. Lonoke lost 1,300 or 3.4 per cent, Columbia 1,684 for its 4.5 per cent, Chicot 1,039 or 3.2 per cent, Hot Spring 1,223 or 4.4 per cent and Garland 1,069 for 1.8 per cent.

To whom Gilbert made out the checks, and for what purpose remains a mystery.

However E.L. Bruce Jr. who has taken over as president of the firm said he believed Gilbert used the money to protect his interest in Celotex Corp.

Gilbert had been one of the largest stockholders in Celotex, a manufacturer of building materials. He had been seeking to merge Celotex with the Bruce company.

Gilbert's withdrawal of E.L. Bruce funds came to light last Tuesday when the company said he voluntarily disclosed the unauthorized withdrawals and resigned.

Several hours later he was on a plane bound for Rio.

Gilbert's wife Rhoda, 29 from whom he has been estranged has not been questioned in the case.

Rex Variety Up in Hempstead

Cotton acreage planted with the Rex variety increased to 51 per cent in Hempstead County this year. DPL Smooth Leaf accounts for 40 per cent, Dixie King four percent and miscellaneous variety total five percent.

According to Mr. E. R. McInnes, Officer in Charge of the Little Rock Government Cotton Classing Office, acreage planted with Rex nearly doubled from last season. 1961 production of 3,441 bales of cotton brought county farmers nearly $600,000.

Bruce Theft Now Under Investigation

NEW YORK (AP)—Both the Securities and Exchange Commission and the district attorney's office are looking into the affairs of Edward M. Gilbert, who flew to Brazil after acknowledging that he withdrew $1,953,000 without authorization from the E.L. Bruce Co.

Federal officials seized the personal files of Gilbert Thursday. He resigned as president and director of Bruce, a flooring manufacturer, before he left the country for Rio de Janeiro.

At the same time the office of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said it was looking into all phases of Gilbert's far-ranging financial activities.

"So far we have barely scratched the surface," said Jerome Kidder, assistant district attorney in charge of the frauds bureau. "We can't say anything until we see the checks documents and books."

Kidder said no criminal action has been taken against Gilbert. "At the moment we are not in a position to extradite him even if we could locate him," he said.

Gilbert 38 has remained incommunicado in Rio with no one seeming to know his exact whereabouts. Gilbert reportedly has contacted a Brazilian lawyer.

Brazil currently has no effective extradition treaty with the United States.

To whom Gilbert made out the checks, and for what purpose remains a mystery.

However E.L. Bruce Jr. who has taken over as president of the firm said he believed Gilbert used the money to protect his interest in Celotex Corp.

Kennedy Takes Hand to Stop Air Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy ordered the Justice Department today to seek a court order stopping the strike of machinists and other employees against Republic Aviation the only source of supply of F105 jet fighters.

Kennedy said the strike of 9,000 workers "will imperil the national safety" if permitted to continue.

The walkout started April 2 in a dispute over a new contract, with job security and severance pay provisions among the chief points of controversy.

Republic has announced some 7600 employees will have to be laid off within the next two years because of a withdrawal of government orders.

Five craft unions also are involved, but the International Association of Machinists represents the vast majority of men and women on strike.

Cox to Open Vote Drive at Fish Fry

B THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

David A. Cox of Weiner was to formally open his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor today at a fish fry in Weiner.

Cox announced his intentions a week ago, but since has said little. At the time he said the other gubernatorial candidates were welcome to participate.

In political developments Thursday the incumbent Gov. Orval E. Faubus came in for criticism on two fronts.

Rep. Dale Alford chided Faubus indirectly for taking credit personally for the state's progress during the last eight years.

Speaking in Fordyce, Alford acknowledged that progress had been made in Arkansas during that period but said it was due to the people's efforts.

"It is quite an astounding thing to hear someone say I did this and I did that for Arkansas, when speaking of the money spent in the state," Alford said.

Arkansas will continue forging ahead Alford allowed, because "the people of this state will make it progress."

Alford was also highly critical of state taxes and promised that if elected there would be no tax increases.

"As your governor I pledge to offer a program to revise the state income tax so that state taxes will not be paid on money now being sent to Washington in federal income taxes," Alford said.

Kenneth Coffelt spent Thursday continuing his political junket through southeast Arkansas. He was to appear today at the Pink Tomato Festival at Warren.

Coffelt reiterated earlier statements that his first act as governor if elected, would be a reduction in utility rates.

He blasted the state Public Service Commission and said the present Faubus-appointed members would be discharged if he becomes governor.

Coffelt said the people of Blytheville who have complained about excessive utility rates have told the truth.

"I have seen the record which the Citizens Committee of Blytheville presented to the PSC through the Blytheville City Council," he said.

The Little Rock attorney charged the PSC has sided with Arkansas Missouri Power Co. in the issue and "deliberately and purposely ignored their plea."

W. B. Fricks, 70, Dies Thursday at Saratoga

William Brents Fricks, 70, a lifelong resident of Saratoga, died Thursday at his home. He was a retired owner of a general store and a member of the Church of Christ.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Saratoga Church of Christ of Willis Farris. Burial by Latimer Service of Nashville will be in Saratoga Cemetery.

Tomatoes Big Business in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A two-day festival under way today in Warren highlights a colorful phase of Arkansas agriculture—pink tomato farming.

The Pink Tomato Festival is more than fun and frolic. It's designed to call attention to an industry which pumps an estimated $3 million into the economy of seven south Arkansas counties each year.

An estimated 1,200 families profit from tomato farming. Bradley County alone has 700 families engaged in the business — either full or part-time — and tomato sales in this one county topped the $1 million mark last year.

The Pink Tomato Festival—and others like it celebrating other crops—is an outgrowth of county fairs which pointed up many phases of agriculture and farm endeavor—from prize livestock to jams, jellies and needlework.

In the seven counties surrounding Warren—Bradley, Ashley, Calhoun, Cleveland, Drew, Dallas and Lincoln—the term "pink" describes a particular variety of tomato. It's table ready—not for canning—and the harvest season is short and in a good year, highly profitable.

Great care has been taken to breed disease and insect resistant varieties that are suitable to the soil and climate and produce a fruit that can be put on tables in northern and eastern markets with pride.

Tomato farming in the area is almost totally a family business and ranges from vocation to avocation.

Either way, it can be highly profitable, or highly disastrous, depending on the farmer. A four-acre plot, with all things in favor—weather, insect and disease control and market conditions—can produce up to a $15,000 gross income.

Plots range from one to 20 acres.

Warren is a lumber town, supplied by Bradley and surrounding counties, and many tomato farmers plant their crops as a sideline. Some raise livestock or do general farming or both while nursing a small plot of tomatoes.

Others, like S. C. Smith of Uvalde, Tex., go "whole hog" in the operation.

Smith, a newcomer to the industry, and his brother-in-law, W. C. Reynolds, who is raising his 34th crop near Jersey community, are embarking on a series of controlled experiments on 12 to 14 acres of tomatoes.

The sight of a man in a big Texas hat gesturing to a Mexican sitting on a little tractor and the Spanish conversation seem out of place in Arkansas, but it is all part of a mass production, modern operation.

Irrigation with a system of aluminum pipe, a unique two-row fungicide sprayer, special caution in tying vines, looking for worms and plans for mechanical sorting and packing are all part of the experiment.

Smith, a chemical engineer with several enterprises in Texas, has placed plastic sheeting on one row and spread pine straw so the tomatoes can spread out in deep, thick vines, instead of being stalked for the fruit to hang.

Another row is being raised in peat moss cups.

The University of Arkansas has been instrumental in development of the two principal varieties of tomato raised in the area — the "Pink Shipper" and the "Bradley." About 60 per cent of the crop is the "Pink Shipper" and 25 per cent "Bradley." The remaining 15 per cent is mostly "Gulf State," another table variety, but a few "Homestead," primarily a canning tomato, are grown.

Sale of the tomatoes, at the area's two main markets—Warren and Hermitage—is strictly on a supply and demand basis. In tomatoes there are no futures. The only speculation is by the farmer and buyer on how many table tomatoes the American public wants in a given year and whether crop conditions provide more, enough, or less.

The first basket of tomatoes each year is rushed to Warren, and auctioned in front of the Chamber of Commerce. The earliest basket this year brought $130.

Three Ordained

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ordination of three persons to the Episcopal clergy was scheduled in Little Rock today. Rev. Emery E. Washington, deacon-in-charge of Christ Church in Forrest City, was to be elevated to the priesthood. Edgar E. Shipley of Fort Smith and William W. Robinson Jr. of Whitehaven, Tenn. were to be ordained as deacons.

Exclusive of that traffic by private automobile, trains carried about 25 per cent of all 1961 passenger traffic.

Davis to Head Ozarks College

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Don E. Davis was named president of the College of the Ozarks Wednesday.

Davis, professor of education and chairman of the division of elementary education at Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich., replaces Dr. William S. Findley, who resigned.

Findley's resignation came after the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities announced the school might lose its accreditation.

The appointment of Davis is effective Aug. 1.

Davis, 54, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Southwestern College at Winfield, Kan and both B.A. and M.A. degrees from Kansas State Teachers College. He obtained his doctorate from Wayne State.

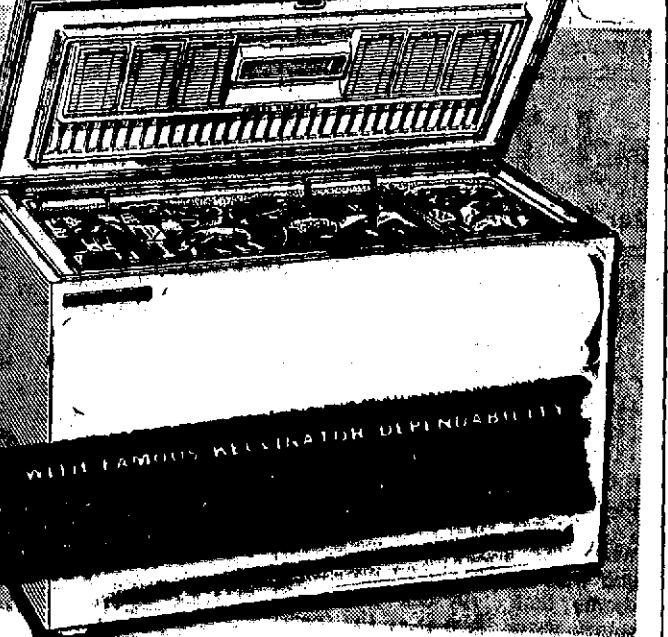

The loss of accreditation by Ozarks, which was to have become effective July 1, has been appealed.

Far East Travelers

An increase was noted in the number of travelers going to the Far East during 1961. This group comprised nearly 7 per cent of the total of Americans traveling abroad.

Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. was a guest of the Tuesday night bridge club which met with Mrs. V. R. Leonard, Jr. on June 12. Pretty ladies decorated the home where two tables of players gathered. Mrs. Gordon Bayless was high scorer. Mrs. C. B. Stuart, Jr. was second high, and Mrs. Homer Jones won the prize. Home-made ice cream and cake were served for refreshments.

JFK Admits He

a Republican is president. He got a laugh by saying: "I can't believe I am where big business wants me."

Kennedy said if Republicans make his farm bill a party issue, "We will find ourselves with a very close vote on a matter which has the first chance of bringing some order out of what is a very chaotic situation."

The administration measure, he contended, would save taxpayers $4 billion over the next four years. Defeat, he said, would reinstate the program of Eisenhower's secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson—and he maintained this has cost more than $6.5 billion a year, would continue piling up surpluses and depress farm income.

Kennedy had this to say on other topics:

Economic Policy—Asked whether government would play an active role in industry and labor wage-price discussions, he said that in a free economy, "We have to attempt to work out the solutions on a voluntary basis."

Deficits—It's not true, Kennedy repeated from his Yale speech of Monday, that budget deficits necessarily induce inflation.

Soviet Union—If agreement on an independent coalition government sticks in Laos, Kennedy said the atmosphere may change and more amicable relations may be possible with the Soviet Union.

Foreign Aid—Senate-voted restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia and Poland represent favors for Moscow, Kennedy said.

Southeast Asia—Kennedy said U.S. policy in Southeast Asia should always be under review, a point made by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in a speech questioning results of U.S. moves in that region.

Space—While the Pentagon plays a significant part in the space program, Kennedy said, the civilian space agency will retain primary responsibility.

Says State Must Get Rid of Regime

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Vernon Whitten, candidate for governor, said in a televised speech Tuesday night that Arkansas must have a changed political climate before a constitutional convention can be called.

Whitten said that business, professional and civic leaders have sought a new constitution, but insist on a change of political atmosphere first.

"There will be no change of either atmosphere or climate until the present governor and his political kinsmen have been removed from public office," he said.

Whitten said the leaders have also begged for a change in climate before undertaking an all-out drive to attract major industry and to check the exodus of the state's young people to other states.

Conclusive proof, he said, must be provided to establish needs for a change in the present administration. He cited as "proofs" the "willingness and determination" of newspapers to report candidate's testimony, the "defiant condemnation" by ministers of those who refuse to obey the constitution, assertion by teachers of their rights and the banding together of women's groups to "register disapproval of immoral and illegal conduct of public affairs."

He said these developments are "part of a unified effort to halt a ten-year bid for political dictatorship in Arkansas."

Whitten hit at rumors that Sheriff Robert Moore of Desha County will be named campaign chairman for Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

"By accepting this appointment, Sheriff Moore would breach the ethics of good citizenship and malign the tenets of morality in good government," he said.

The candidate also lashed out at what he termed a campaign fund practice of "extorting, extracting or demanding political contributions from state employees" and said if elected he would make such practices illegal.

Candidates begin fanning out into the state this week seeking votes as the campaign gets into high gear.

Sid McMath will be in Benton County today and Kenneth Coffelt has scheduled a "whistle stop" tour of eight southeast Arkansas communities. Dale Alford will speak at a Little Rock Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Youth Drowned
MANILA, Ark. (AP) — Steve Hood, 15, of near Manila, drowned Monday while swimming with three companions in Big Lake, three miles west of Manila. His body was recovered in 6-8 feet of water. Hood lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Jim Rowman.

Models at Carnegie Hall

MISS SHARON FOSTER, A RESIDENT OF HOPE, SHOWN on a runway at Carnegie Hall in New York, participated in the show staged by Glamour Magazine starring the "Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America."

During the Carnegie Hall show the 10 girls modeled the newest in fashion. They will all also be the stars of Glamour's August issue.

Either Bad Music or New Approach

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"They (the public) don't know if it's bad music or a new approach," said Igor Stravinsky of his work in an epilogue to his new dance drama Thursday night.

This viewer, whose musical tastes run toward Jerome Kern and Richard Rodgers, would not presume to judge the merits of "Noah and the Flood," the 80-year-old maestro's latest—and, he said, last—work. I do know that I wasn't humming the tunes when I snapped off the set. And I still don't understand the mixture of soaring religious type poetry and comedy doggerel with which the familiar Bible story was retold against the once background.

The dancers wore masks and did more writhing than dancing and leaping. The music was full of dissonances and sharp sounds.

CBS, reputed to have spent at least $200,000 on the production, may feel it made the culture catch of the year with the world premiere of the great composer's work. Unhappily, I was both bored and bewildered during most of it. The most interesting part to me was the last 20 minutes of the hour special when, the musical event concluded, there was a biographical treatment of Stravinsky and his collaborator, choreographer George Balanchine. If this be a confession of lowbrow-ism, make the most of it.

"CBS Reports" has a summer schedule of repeat shows like most other programs, but will spice up its Thursday evenings with four new programs of varied offerings.

First, on July 12, will be a special edition of the network's daytime "Calendar" which will study the American woman in her home.

Three of the Thursday night specials will come in August: "An experiment in Dialogue," what ever that means; a poetry session and a musical hour. All very high level.

Saturday — National Open Golf Tournament, NBC, 4:30-6 p.m. — last holes from the Oakmont, Pa. Sunday — "The Richest Man in Bogota," NBC, 10-11 p.m. — science fiction fantasy starring Lee Marvin.

Office Pals, Gossipy
Neighbors Part of Marriage?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I married a few years ago at the age of 30 after a pretty exciting life with lots of ups and plenty of downs. Now I have found emotional security and adjusted beautifully with the exception of pressure from two groups: my husband's partying office pals and the housewives' coffee break circle.

While single, it was easy to be an individualist; I made my own friends and by-passed those who didn't interest me. But since marrying, I feel constrained to grin like a Cheshire cat and conform to the whole drove of the most unimaginative, insipid and dull people in the world for fear that if I don't, they'll wreck my marriage.

The office crowd's idea of fun is to get drunk and get in dark corners with someone else's husband or wife.

Then there are the neighbors. We happen to live next door to the leader of the local housewives' coffee - break set. I'm loathe to hurt their feelings but why should I rush over every day for coffee and gossip when I'd far rather be cleaning house or reading a book? How can I avoid going to their homes or inviting them to mine without having the whole neighborhood down on us? Is it possible for my husband and me to extricate ourselves from these office capers without the whole staff turning on him? Or are ho-hum social obligations and boring neighbors just a part of married routine? —L. F.

Dear L. F.: Neither you, nor your marriage will be a success unless you are true to your best self. If you don't enjoy gossip and whoop-la parties, have the courage to turn down the invitations. Plan beforehand just what you intend to say. Give it as much thought as you would a formal speech.

It is possible to say "No," so gracefully, especially if said with a smile, that the person turned down will think you the most wonderful human being in the world.

Most of us say "Yes," because it is easier than saying "No." Get in training by telling everybody, no matter what they propose, "No," for a single day. Your husband and any others who happen to cross your path will probably be confounded. But if you stick to your resolve and do it with grace (practice helps), they'll like you all the better for your independence.

Dear Helen: Grandpa died about a month ago and Pop has been so grouchy ever since. Sure, we kids know he feels sad and depressed and we try to under-

Life of a Bachelor Is Full Time Job

By JOY MILLER AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Being a bachelor in Washington can be almost a full-time job.

If the unattached male has a prominent position in government it's a tossup with the hardworking hostesses whether he is doing more for his country in his official capacity or as a dinner partner for some widowed, aged, visiting or temporarily unescorted female who simply must be invited.

Few among the unsung, unwed but well-fed stags feel the urge to analyze their meal tickets in print. Robert Keith Gray is an exception, and his recently published book "Eighteen Acres Under Grass" (dimensions of the White House grounds) is a good-humored guidebook to, among other things, Washington's terribly serious social life.

When handsome, uncommitted Bob Gray was secretary of the Cabinet in the Eisenhower administration he was listed by the press as one of the Capitol's most eligible bachelors. He was able to preserve his native Nebraska modesty when he discovered another most-eligible was Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, aged 93.

He's now a far-from-feeble 39, and his white hair, which he's had from school days, lends a man of distinction air. Since leaving government service he's been vice president of a public relations firm and a continuing pet of Washington hostesses.

"The amount of business transacted at a social event is substantial," Gray says.

"Women have a greater part in running the country here than anywhere else in the world. Men may hold the key jobs, but the influence of their wives is tremendous."

Gray says he feels himself only a temporary bachelor, but "it's hard to break out of the bachelor status in Washington. You're sought after to fill places, and hostesses don't team you up with eligible girls. You're never asked, even for dances, to bring a date."

America in Nifty Scramble for Loop Lead

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

That's a nifty little scramble in the American League, what with the upstart Minnesota Twins and New York's perennial champion Yankees in their head-to-head duel for the lead. And it would have been even more crowded at the top if a pair of contenders like the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox hadn't hit a song against a couple of also-rans.

Minnesota trimmed the Los Angeles Angels Thursday 5-4 on Lennie Green's game-winning single in the ninth inning. New York actually trails by half a game—a 32-22 record for the Yanks to 26-25 for the Twins—but holds a slim edge in the determining percent age column, 55.9 to 55.0.

Washington's last-place Senators clipped Cleveland 4-3, dropping the Indians 1½ games behind; Kansas City whipped the White Sox 11-8; and Jim Gentile's struggling helped Baltimore take Boston 7-4. Detroit had the day off, along with the Yankees.

In the National League, Milwaukee beat first-place Los Angeles 7-1; Cincinnati shut out San Francisco, 8-0; Pittsburgh beat Chicago 6-3; and Houston clouted New York 10-2. St. Louis and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

The Twins left 16 men on base and dissipated three leads but finally got their clincher against Art Fowler in the ninth when Green's two-out single brought in Zella Versailles, who had singled and moved to second on a ground out. The winner was Jim Kari.

Danny O'Connell's bases-loaded single in the eighth inning knocked in the winning run for the Senators, who took the series from the Indians two games to one.

The Athletics dealt Chicago its fifth straight setback, pounding out 15 hits against prize rookie Joel Horlen and four other pitchers. Kansas City rookie Ed Charles homered his first two times up.

League batting leader Manny Jimenez had two hits for the A's, while Jerry Lumpe homered and singled twice. Gordon Jones, Kansas City's fourth and last pitcher, gained his first victory of the year.

Gentile raised his league leading homer total to 17 when he connected in the fifth inning at Boston with one on and delivered another run as the Orioles put it out of reach with three in the sixth. Brooks Robinson also homered for Baltimore and added a double and single.

Lefty Steve Barber (5-4) was the winner with shutout relief from Hoyt Wilhelm. Bill Monbouquette was the loser.

Arkansans Invent a New Timer

WYNNE Ark. (AP)—A unique electronic timer invented by two Arkansas men will be demonstrated today and Saturday at the National Collegiate Athletic Association finals in Eugene, Ore.

Called the Radart timer, the device times a running event to the tenth of a second through six places.

The inventors Raymond Bud Rowland and Art Rogers hope to get NCAA approval of the device so they can begin manufacturing it for sale to NCAA-affiliated schools.

Rogers said the device has been used for barrel races and horse races for about three years and in 15 states.

The Arkansas Athletic Association has adopted it as an official timing device and the inventors hope other state high school groups will follow suit.

The device will replace the traditional timing method of manually operating stopwatches (usu-

Athletic Group Goes Into Huddle

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Athletic Association decided Thursday to study whether interscholastic events should be restricted to non-school nights.

AAA President Wylie Key of Marked Tree appointed Robert Stephens of De Queen, Lee Cassidy of Magnet Cove and Glen Black of Siloam Springs, to a committee to study the issue.

The committee will study all school-related events athletic and otherwise, and report its recommendation at the November meeting of the AAA Executive Committee of the association's governing board.

Other committees are studying whether a 24-second rules should be placed into effect during state basketball tournaments and whether track records set during the Meet of Champions should qualify for state marks.

The Executive Committee also approved Thursday during its summer workshop a plan by the Arkansas Officials Association for a system of checking officials in each of the state's eight athletic districts. Plans also were sanctioned for the Arkansas Coaches Association's annual prep all-star games in August.

In other business Thursday, Johnnie Burnett was elected to a 9th two-year term as AAA executive secretary.

Burnett announced preparation of a handbook on the amateur status of athletes to be distributed by the AAA to officials of rodeos, bowling alleys and other organizations which might endanger accidentally an athlete's status.

AAA regulations prohibit amateurs playing with or against professional players and accepting any award worth over $3.50.

The United States accounted for more than one-half of the free-world consumption of silver, including coinage, during 1961.

Redlegs Hang Shutout on the Giants

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds hung a second straight three-hit shutout on the ordinarily potent San Francisco Giants Thursday night 8-0. And the Milwaukee Braves shoved the Los Angeles Dodgers around 7-1, as Bob Shaw won his eighth.

The defeats left the Dodgers two games on top over the Giants. The revitalized Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight, 6-3 over the Chicago Cubs, to close to within 6½ games of the lead.

The Cincinnati triumph pushed the defending champions into a fourth place tie, 7½ away with the St. Louis Cardinals, idle Thursday but winners of nine of their last 10. Philadelphia also was idle. The Houston Colts battered their fellow freshmen in the league, the New York Mets, 10-2.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins moved to within three percentage points of the first place New York Yankees, beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-4. Washington clipped Cleveland 4-3, the Baltimore Orioles took the Boston Red Sox 7-4 and the Kansas City Athletics humbled the Chicago White Sox 11-8. Detroit and New York were not scheduled.

Joey Jay, a 21-game winner last year, raised his mark to 9-6 as he scattered three hits to shut out the Giants for the second night in a row. Frank Robinson drove in four runs, three with his eighth homer.

The Giants lost the services of ace left hander Billy Pierce (8-2), spiked on the right ankle by Don Blasingame as he covered first. Pierce, charged with the loss, will be out an estimated 12 days.

Shaw (8-2) gave the Dodgers only six hits. His mates got him five runs in the first inning off Stan Williams (6-3). Henry Aaron hammered his 12th homer.

The Pittsburgh Pirates jumped off for two runs in the first, saw the Cubs tie on homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo, and then went out of reach when Don Hoak hit a three-run homer in the fifth.

Bob Friend (7-7) went the route for the Pirates. Dick Ellsworth (4-9) got the loss.

Houston manhandled the Mets for seven runs in the first inning, including Carl Warwick's home run, and coasted to a 10-2 victory.

Jay Hoak (4-7) faced six batters without getting any out before departing. Bob Bruce (5-1) went all the way for the Colts.
